Motivational Speaker, Workshop Leader, Author, Executive Coach

Susan West is a consultant, author and trainer/speaker. As President of QuadWest Associates, LLC, she provides HR consulting services, executive coaching services, leadership development training and online leadership resources and tools for her client's use. She brings twenty five years of corporate executive, operational and human resource experience to her audiences. Susan shares the perspectives and lessons learned from the positions she held as President of a multi-million joint venture, Vice President of the Midwest Region for a large Staffing company and Director of HR for a non-profit community service organization.

Susan's knowledge as an executive leader comes from real-world experience in leading large business units and small organizations, managing mergers and acquisitions, handling major downsizing initiatives and growing operations under detailed performance objectives. Susan is best known as an executive leader who coaches people to accomplish goals they thought were out of reach; who shares knowledge creating power in others; and empowering confidence to embrace change.

She is co-author of the book, The Advantage of Leadership and is currently working on Family Abundance to be published in 2011. Drawing on her experiences as a corporate executive, business leadership coach and small business entrepreneur, Susan knows the challenges of balancing work and family. Her workshops and presentations are targeted for empowering leaders so they are powerfully effective in their workplace, home and community.

Susan holds an Master of Arts in Business Administration from Central Michigan University, a Bachelor of Arts from Alma College and has earned her SPHR certification. Susan is an active member of Automotive Women's Alliance, Society for Human Resources (SHRM) and Toastmasters.
